Meſſieurs HALL & SELLERS.

Be pleaſed to give the following communication, from a Gentleman on Wye-River, Maryland, to the Society for promoting of Agriculture, eſtabliſhed in this city, a place in your next paper.

THE Society of Agriculture at Philadelphia wiſh to have experiments made in huſbandry, by friends to its improvement. Being perſuaded the ingenious Mr. Marſhall's thoughts, and his manner of regiſtering experiments, as below, will conduce to encourage the undertaking, I forward them to the Society, with the hope they will publiſh them; the rather, as his writings are, as yet, very little known in America.

The utility of experimenting (ſo I think Mr. Marſhall ſays) muſt be obvious to every one; for, altho' a fortuitous incident may be equally inſtructive as the looked for reſult of an experiement, yet the former, being ſubject to chance, may be few; while the latter can be increaſed at the will of the experimentaliſt. Experimenting, therefore, muſt be peculiarly uſeful to the young huſbandman; and, indeed, to every farmer, however ſkillful he is, at his firſt entrance into a new farm.

Circumſpection and accuracy are neceſſary in experimenting; the former to guard againſt difference of ſoil, ſeed, &c. &c. the latter to mark minutely the ſcene of experiment.

The mode of regiſtering experiments is of ſome importance. The accuracy of making is loſt, if the experiment be not fully and accurately regiſtered. The following is a ſpecimen of Mr. Marſhall's method of regiſtering. In practice he regiſters the proceſs chronologically, as it is made, leaving blank the oppoſite page for receiving minutes of the reſults or events; and he numbers each experiment, refers to the field in which it is made, gives it a head or title, and conciſely minutes his intention in making it. This he does by way of queſtion, to be followed by a conciſe anſwer, comprehending the amount of the reſult. The proceſs and reſult would be deficient, were they not elucidated by the intention.

In the form below, Mr. Marſhall conſidered the intention, or middle column, as the body of the page, the text; the other two columns as explanatory margins. He obſerves, beſides, the proceſs is frequently made before any intention of making it an experiment is formed. It, indeed, is the cheapeſt and eaſieſt mode of making experiments, when the proceſs of entire crops, merely by duly regiſtering the facts in the courſe of cropping, with the reſults, are exhibited to the view in thoſe regular columns.

Mr. MARSHALL's method of regiſtering CROPS in a way that exhibits them as EXPERIMENTS. He therefore ſtiles it,

EXPERIMENTS concerning AGRICULTURE.

THE PROCESS.	THE INTENTION.	THE RESULT.
APRIL, 1776. Sowed the further ſide before the hither ſide, after croſs-harrowing; the whole was afterwards rolled.	No. I. (In No. 5.) Sowing Clover. Should clover ſeed be buried deep, or ſhould it be merely covered? Either; by this experiment.	JULY, 1777. The whole field a very even good crop.
APRIL, 1776. a. Light rolled. b. Heavy rolled, immediately after the ſeed was covered.	No. II. (In No. 6.) Rolling Gravel. Should a ſharp gravelly loom be compacted, or ſhould it be left light? Undecided.	JULY, 1778. Neither the barley nor the clover received any perceptible good or ill by the rolling.
APRIL, 1776. a. Sown before ſpiky rolling. b. Sown after it. The whole field was then ſwept with a bruſh harrow.	No. III. (In No. 4) Sowing mixed Graſſes. Should the ſeed be deeply or ſlightly covered? Either; by this experiment.	AUGUST, 1777. This field was paſtured. Not the ſmalleſt difference to be obſerved; excepting where the filth was fine, the plants are thick; where cloddy, thin.
APRIL, 1776. Harrowed all the wheat with very light harrows, in order to raiſe freſh mould for the ſeed to drop upon; except a belt acroſs the middle.	No. IV. (In No. 2.) Sowing Clover. Is harrowing the ſoil, before ſowing clover over wheat, beneficial to the crop? No; not by this experiment.	JULY, 1777. The whole field was equally good. N. B. This belt was neither harrowed before, nor rolled after, ſowing.
SEPTEMBER, 1776. Two lands againſt the road, from the winding of the road upwards, dry; the reſt pickled in lime-water brine.	No. V. (In P 1.) Sowing Wheat. Is brining the ſeed advantageous to the crop? Not---by this experiment.	AUGUST, 1777. It is remarkable that theſe two lands are forwarder, and a better crop, than the reſt of the field.
OCTOBER, 1776. 19 Lands, over. 2 under. 4 over. 2 under. 66 over. The quantities of ſeed equal.	No. VI. (In L 1) Sowing Wheat. Is under-furrows or over-furrows preferable? Over-furrows, when with the ſame quantity of ſeed.	AUGUST, 1777. The under-furrow the ſtrongeſt ſtraw and larger ears, but much the thineſt, much the fouleſt, and much the ſhabbieſt crop.
DECEMBER, 1776. a. Ten loads of yard dung (made from ſtraw and fern, with ſome ſhovellings of dirt) an acre. b. Not dunged.	No. VII. (In A 3.) Manuring. Is it elegible to lay dung to young graſſes on a clayey loom in December? No.	AUGUST, 1777. The whole a very bad crop, not worth mowing, tho' a hay year. The dunged is diſcernible, and that is all. AUGUST, 1778. The ſame may be ſaid this year.
APRIL, 1777. Rolled a diagonal belt from a. to b. with the heavy roller. The reſt of the field not rolled.	No. VIII. (In L 1.) Rolling Wheat on Clay. Should wheat, on a clayey loom, be rolled in April? No.	AUGUST, 1777. Not the ſmalleſt difference to be traced; the rolling, of courſe, loſt labour.

KINGSTON (Jamaica) June 25.

On Saturday last returned to Port-Royal, the ſchooner Rachel, Letmau, having been chaſed ſeveral days by a French frigate, armed brig and ſchooner, ſuppoſed to be guarda coaſtas, which ſhe fortunately eſcaped by faſt ſailing.---The Rachel left this harbour the 29th of laſt month, with upwards of 50 Negroes on board.

Monſieur de Bellecombe, Governor of Hiſpaniola, having been recalled from his government, ſailed from thence a few weeks ago for Old France, much to the ſatisfaction of many of the inhabitants, who had experienced the auſterity of his adminiſtration.

By a ſloop arrived expreſs on the 22d from the Muſquito Shore, the Spaniſh anſwer is brought to our reply to their requiſitions made us ſome time ſince there. It is very evident that this buſineſs is become an object of diſcuſſion between this court and home.

During the ſitting of the late grand court, upwards of 1700 actions were brought, and above 1500 writs were marked. This too plainly ſhews that credit, finance, trade and commerce, are at low-water mark.

ST. GEORGE's (Bermuda) July 2.

By accounts from the Weſt-India iſlands, we learn that two regiments of Britiſh troops are juſt arrived at Barbadoes, one for Dominica, and the other for St. Vincent; that our cruiſers and men of war were ſo watchful of the American veſſels, that not one was ſuffered to go into any of the iſlands without their being in diſtreſs; ſeveral had been ſeized and condemned at St. Kitts, and other places, having two ſets of papers on board.

CHARLESTON (South-Carolina) July 24.

The Little Joe, Capt. Ward, arrived at Liverpool, April 28, fell in with the Providence, Capt. French, from Charleſton, bound to London, in great diſtreſs; Capt. French and his crew were taken on board the Little Joe, which was no ſooner done, than a heavy gale of wind overturned the boat.

Alſo, Captain Lyon, of the Matty and Betty, arrived at the ſame place, about 30 leagues to the weſtward of Cape Clear, fell in with the ſhip George, Ben. Curtis, maſter, from Virginia, bound to Oſtend, who had her upper works ſtove in, had their water caſks waſhed away, their carpenter and another man waſhed over, had to ſcuttle the long boat, and throw three hogſheads of tobacco over to eaſe the bows, had but eight men left.

The brig Mary Ann, Capt. Chriſtian, from Liverpool, ſpoke with the ſhip Suſanna, Burne, 21ſt of May, bound for Barbados, all well; 3d of July ſpoke a ſchooner from Philadelphia, bound to Dominica.

Extract of a letter from Briſtol.

"The following is lately received from a very competent pilot, and the knowledge of it may be of much ſervice to the ſeafaring part of the community: Between the Land's End and Rundle Stone lie four ſunken rocks, three of which are in the fair way, and the others nearly in the ſame direction with the ſtone, which renders that frequent paſſage exceedingly dangerous, and notwithſtanding the number of veſſels that paſs and repaſs that way, it is reaſonable to ſuppoſe that many Captains in the coaſting trade are not apprehenſive of the hidden danger. At low water, on one of the above-mentioned rocks, is ſix feet; on the ſecond but four; the third, on particular ſpring tides, the oar weed has been ſeen above; the 4th of March, Captain Puddicombe, of the Newton-Buſhel, from Liverpool to Plymouth, ſtruck on one of theſe rocks; but the weather proving fair, and wind favorable, by the immediate aſſiſtance of a pilot, with a a number of hands to work the pumps, the veſſel was kept above water, and brought into a port in Mount's-Bay."

BOSTON, Auguſt 3.

That a true ſtate of the fracas that happened on Sunday evening laſt, and which deſigning men may wiſh to repreſent to the diſadvantage of this town may be known, we beg leave to preſent the following, which we had from perſons on the ſpot:---The officers belonging to the Britiſh frigate in this harbour, walking in the Mall, were met by a ſeaman, who during the late war had been extremely ill uſed on board this frigate; the recollection of his treatment operated ſo far againſt his civility, as to induce him in paſſing one of them to bruſh ſo hard againſt him, as to urge him out of his walk; ſome words here enſued, and the people collecting to enquire what the matter might be, the officers thought it prudent to make a decent retreat; ſome boys, &c. who were near the Mall, followed them into State-ſtreet, where they demanded and received protection, but not before they gallantly drew their ſwords, and bid the croud keep off. No injury, that we heard of, was offered the officers, nor were the croud armed with any offenſive weapons.

The Centinel, faithful to its duty, muſt acquaint that there are ſeveral veſſels, now in this harbour, Britiſh property; and which (notwithſtanding the late acts) may poſſibly wiſh to carry off proviſions to our freinds in Nova-Scarcity.

Agreeable to the laws of this Commonwealth, there cannot, upon pain of forfeiture, be exported from any port, harbour, creek, bay or inlet, river or ſhore, or any other place within this Commonwealth, any goods, wares or merchandize, the growth, manufacture, or produce of the United States, in any ſhip, veſſel, or craft of any kind, belonging (either in whole or in part) to, or being the property of the ſubjects of the king of Great Britain. Quere, If the Britiſh frigate in this harbour ſhould violate the above, ſhe would be conſidered as belonging to the ſubjects of the king of Great-Britain?

The drought (mentioned by the Centinel a few days ſince) in the inland provinces of France, was ſo great, when the laſt accounts came from that quarter, that whole ponds of water were dried up; the canal of Bourdeaux was ſo empty of water between Chateaux la Mere and San Santoine that the barges can no longer nav gate. The peaſants were obliged to drive their cattle three miles or more for water, and many people had been obliged to kill or diſpoſe of their beaſts for want of drink. In many fertile provinces they are threatened with a great ſcarcity of the fruits of the earth, unleſs rain ſhould have come down ſoon after. The ſame complaints are made in Spain, Italy, and Piedmont. While every generous breaſt muſt condole with the ſufferers by this ſevere calamity, we ought not to be regardleſs of, or backward in gratitude to, that Being, who has beſtowed on the this part of the globe ſhowers and ſunſhine, as bid fair for a plenteous harveſt.

Every friend to America will hear with pleaſure, that that ſpirit of emulation for perfection in military exerciſe, which, prior to the late revolution, ſo nobly diſplayed itſelf throughout this ſtate, and which gave the line of the army belonging to this commonwealth a deſerved pre-eminence, begins again to break forth----A company of independent cadets, compoſed principally of young gentlemen in the mercantile line, has been formed within theſe few days in this town, and which is now in great forwardneſs---Several other companies, and troops of horſe, are now forming in many parts of the country.

NEWBURY-PORT, Auguſt 3.

That the Legiſlature have a right to tax advertiſements, we will not at preſent deny.----But the exerciſe of that right is, without doubt, at this time, impolitic in a country like this, where money is ſo amazingly ſcarce, that every means of ſaving is eagerly embraced, though by ſuch means, many times the perſons themſelves, as well as the public, are greatly injured.---Such is the caſe where advertiſements are with-held---the public are uninformed where they may, without much trouble, find the articles they wiſh for, and the perſon who poſſeſſes them ſuffers for want of a purchaſer.---This is already perceptible in the Eſſex Journal.---Advertiſements are diſcontinued, and new ones, which were offered, are, on account of the Tax, withdrawn without being inſerted.---And what is the mighty benefit to the State? The anſwer is eaſy----If every paper in the State ſhould be juſt as fruitful in advertiſements throughout the year, as this is the preſent week, the income will not amount to one hundred pounds per annum; out of which (if that is poſſible) the expence of framing the Law is to be deducted---and ſhould it be continued, and advertiſements not offered as uſual, the ſize of the New-papers muſt be reduced, or the price enhanced, for no one can reaſonably ſuppoſe that a News-paper can be printed and ſold for two-pence, without ſomething more coming to defray the charge attending it.---In ſhort, the Printer finds himſelf neceſſitated to be as ſaving as many of his cuſtomers are---had it not been for the above-mentioned tax, he ſhould have reminded them of his laſt week's advertiſement reſpecting the publication of Dilworth's Spelling-book, as well as of his now having in the Preſs an adition of the Accidence, for the uſe of Latin Schools---together with a true and ſurpriſing account of the Devil's appearing to John Cheſſelden and James Arkins----The latter will be publiſhed this week; but as the price, when finiſhed, will be only five coppers, it appears not to be worth advertiſing, though very entertaining to the reader.

NEW-YORK, Auguſt 10.

A few days ago arrived in this city, via Jamaica and Philadelphia, the Honorable Temple Luttrell, ſon of the Right Honorable Lord Viſcount Charhampton, and brother to her Royal Highneſs the Dutcheſs of Cumberland. This gentleman will embark in a few days for Europe. He is the third of the noble Viſcount's ſons who has viſited our continent.

From Jamaica we are informed, that his Excellency General Alured Clark, having ſo highly recommended himſelf by a gracious and amiable adminiſtration to the confidence and affection of the inhabitants of that very flouriſhing and important iſland, the principal gentlemen, with the two houſes of the legiſlature, ſent home an addreſs to their Royal Sovereign, entreating his Majeſty to continue him in that important ſtation, they having entertained apprehenſions of a noble Lord's being propoſed by the miniſtry to ſupercede him; to which application his Majeſty moſt kindly declared his conſent.

The Aſſembly of the ſtate of Georgia have generouſly offered the Connecticut line of the late Continental army, to locate their bounty lands within that ſtate, with other benefits and privileges, on certain conditions.

Auguſt 15. At the Supreme Court lately held for the ſtate of New-York, at the City-Hall of the city of Albany, Jeremiah Arnold, a free negroe man, was indicted for horſe-ſtealing at different times---on two indictments, he was convicted, and received ſentence of death; and his execution is ordered to be on the firſt Friday in September next.---At the ſame Court one Joſeph Johnſon, of Schenectady, merchant, was indicted of a miſdemeanor, for having in March laſt offered for ſale to Mr. Thomas Sickles, of Albany, merchant, two forged or altered certificates of the United States national debt, ſubſcribed by John Pierce, Eſq; Commiſſioner (and commonly called final ſettlement notes) he the ſaid Joſeph Johnſon well knowing the ſaid certificates to be forged---the defendant being tried, the verdict was found that he was guilty, but on a motion for the defendant in arreſt of judgment, the ſame is poſtponed until the next term.

At the late Court of Oyer and Terminer and Gaol Delivery in Ulſter county, James M'Cormick, late of Fredericksburg precinct, in Dutcheſs county, and Hieronimus Swingle, of Montgomery precinct, in Ulſter county, blackſmith, were ſeverally indicted and convicted of horſe-ſtealing, and received ſentence of death; and John Ryan, who was formerly convicted and ſentenced to be executed, in Orange county, for a highway robbery, of which felony he was afterwards pardoned, was indicted for paſſing a counterfeit Spaniſh milled dollar, knowing the ſame to be counterfeit; at the time of his trial, two of the material witneſſes were abſent, and fortunately for the priſoner he was acquitted.

We are informed from Poughkeepſie, that a few days ago two lads at a ſchool in that place, differing in reſpect to their exerciſe, determined on a reference to their maſter, who decided in favor of the junior, which ſo much irritated the ſenior, that, when the ſcholars were diſmiſſed, he ſeized his competitor, threw him on the ground, and trampled him to death. The unfortunate boy's corps was brought to this city on Friday laſt.

RICHMOND, Auguſt 6.

On Wedneſday laſt was brought to the public goal, in this city, by the Sheriff of Cumberland, Suſanna and Sarah Beacham, mother and daughter, for the murder of a male baſtard child, born of the body of the latter. The body of the infant was found in the buſhes, with a black ſilk handkerchief about his neck, by which it is ſuppoſed he was ſtrangled. The mother was aiding and abetting in this cruel and unnatural murder.

We are happy to inform our readers, from good authority, that four of the labourers (conditionally pardoned) who lately eſcaped from this city, were retaken in the county of Buckingham, and are hourly expected to be brought down, under a ſtrong guard, to receive the fruits of their labour.

Theſe villains could not be content with the mitigation of their ſentence, through the mercy of our Governor and Council, but, immediately after liberating themſelves from confinement, committed freſh crimes, ſufficient to deprive them of exiſtence, the breaking and plundering a ſtore in Buckingham; upon which the neighbours were alarmed, who armed themſelves, purſued the culprits, and apprehended them.

BALTIMORE, Auguſt 12.

Laſt Tueſday arrived here, the ſhip Pallas, John O'Donnel, Commander, from China. She left Macao, in Canton, the 20th of laſt January.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman in Bayonne, to his friend in Virginia, dated March 20, 1785.

"Your letter of the firſt of December came to hand very ſeaſonably. You deſired me to inform you of the extent, freedom, and exemptions, granted to our port and territory; the extent of which is about ten leagues. We now begin to feel the uſeful advantages of the new conſtitution which took place on the firſt of September laſt. Long before your revolution we petitioned the freedom of commerce, with the immunity and exemption of all duties. Our vicinity with Spain promiſed us all the advantages we could expect then, and the glorious event of your independence made us conjecture the greateſt increaſe in our trade; but behold more than ſix months are expired, and not a ſingle American veſſel has viſited our bar. We receive and diſpatch all kinds of wet and dry goods, without paying any duties, or conformable to any kind of formality. Our demands for tobacco and rice are conſiderable, and it is alſo much wanted with our neighbours the Spaniards. Traſh tobacco has not been ſold under ſixty livres tournois per hundred; what I mean by traſh, is ſuch as is only fit for rappee. Rice has been ſold commonly from 55 to 60 livres per hundred. I ſhall not mention the prices of furs, as they are eſtimated according to their qualities, and fetch a very great price.

"I have the pleaſure to inform you that in a little time our port will be a general magazine, where all foreigners will bring in their commodities and purchaſe ours; particularly thoſe from the north.

"Our manufactures are coarſe cloths, blankets, thread, bern handkerchiefs, ſhoes, &c. &c. Our merchants are always ſupplied with fine linens, cloths, and all other kinds of goods, alſo plenty of fine iron, nails, anchors, &c. The Engliſh have already begun to carry on trade with this place. I have ſeen three of their ſhips loaded in the Thames, with a variety of cloths, ſtuff, &c. for this free port. They take in return, wines and brandies, which articles we can furniſh cheaper than Bourdeaux."

PHILADELPHIA, Auguſt 17.

Very recent accounts from Kentucky confirm the reports hitherto received from that quarter, that the Six Nations have expreſſed the greateſt diſſatisfaction of the late treaty, alledging that the Britiſh officers at Niagara and Detroit had informed them that our Commiſſioners had impoſed on them, in aſſerting that thoſe lands were ceded to us by the Britiſh, and that we were to take poſſeſſion of the abovementioned poſts---That the celebrated and noted Brandt had arrived from England, who united with them in the ſame ſentiment and opinion-----That in conſequence of this information, a Council had been held at the Shawaneſe-town, where ſeveral other tribes, beſides the Six Nations, aſſembled; the reſult of which we are unable preciſely to aſcertain and determine---But as two chiefs, viz. Cornplanter and another, with 30 warriors, have ſince been at Fort Pitt, and preſented the papers, exchanged at the treaty, to Colonel Harmar, our commanding officer there, it is conjectured, and reaſonable to ſuppoſe their intentions are hoſtile and unfriendly. Colonel Harmar, after having a talk with them, declined receiving their papers, and obſerved that thoſe perſons gave them ſuch intelligence with a view to excite their jealouſy, and to make them uneaſy, and that they were enemies both to them and to us. The Indians ſaid they always underſtood that the lands contracted for by the commiſſioners from Pennſylvania were to be ſet apart, and conſidered as hunting-ground for both parties, and not to be ſurveyed, and the trees ſpotted, for the purpoſes of ſettlement and cultivation. They likewiſe obſerved, that as only a few of their chiefs were at the treaty, they had not been fully and regularly repreſented. In their drunken frolics they have alſo declared, that they had never been conquered, and would not give up their lands. They ſeemed the more inclined to believe the ſtories impoſed on them by the Britiſh emiſſaries and incendiaries, becauſe we had not taken poſſeſſion of Niagara and Detroit, agreeable to the repreſentations of our Commiſſioners. Theſe are the principal arguments now uſed and urged by the Indians, for not complying with the terms of the treaty. And we underſtand that an expreſs has been ſent from Fort Pitt with this intelligence to Congreſs.

On Friday evening, the 5th inſtant, a moſt daring robbery, attended with great outrage, was committed by twelve armed men, at the houſe of Mr. Audrain, a French gentleman, near Neſhaminey ferry, in Bucks county. While ſome of them very much abuſed Mr. Audrain, others plundered the houſe of the moſt valuable portable articles.

The Preſident and Supreme Executive Council of this Commonwealth have iſſued a proclamation, offering a reward of FIFTY POUNDS in ſpecie, to any perſon for apprehending each and every of the perpetrators of the above robbery, to be paid on conviction for the ſame; and over and above the ſaid reward, they promiſe free and full pardon to any one of the ſaid robbers, their aiders, abettors or comforters, who ſhall diſcover, apprehend and ſecure any other or others of the ſaid robbers, ſo that he or they may be convicted and brought to condign puniſhment.

Sunday, the 7th inſtant, a negro woman threw her new born child into a neceſſary in Gray's alley, where its cries attracted the attention of two perſons who knew the mother. They immediately took up the miſerable little victim, but not time enough to ſave its life, as the inhuman wretch had bruiſed the child's head, and otherwiſe ſo much injured it, that it died ſoon after. The woman was committed to jail the ſame evening.

Extract of a letter from London, May 6.

"I begin to ſuſpect I have been completely miſtaken in my ideas, reſpecting the unfavourable appearance of the politics of this country, and my expectation that thoſe of the United-States would grow better: I believe the very reverſe will be the caſe; for in America, I can neither perceive an improved ſyſtem of government, or an increaſe of commerce; and public faith appears to have no other conſequence but the name. We are growing better here daily--------our funds are riſing------commerce flouriſhes,---the courſe of exchange is in our favour from all parts of the world, the taxes are efficient in almoſt every claſs, and ſuperabundant in many: the revenue is reformed, and further improvements are in contemplation.------Smuggling, that bane to commerce and cancer to the conſtitution, is almoſt annihilated; and all this reform is from the ability of a young man not 25 years of age: He ſurpaſſes my imagination and the moſt ſanguine expectations of his friends; and being the only miniſter, ſince his father, who has diſcovered an inflexible integrity, the world give him unbounded confidence and credit; it ſhould be an admirable leſſon to all nations, and more particularly to the United States, that "Honeſty is the beſt Policy."--------Should this young man (Mr. Pitt) preſevere in this line of rectitude, and poſſeſs the true Amor Patriæ, with an ambition to let the welfare of his country precede the aggrandiſement of himſelf or friends, I am of opinion he will be able to reſtore this fallen empire once more to a degree of ſplendor and reputation, which I confeſs I did not think it was practicable for the ability of any one man (ſituated as we were) to do.

"Reſpecting the productions of the Philadelphia Bank, I am of opinion it will in a great degree depend upon the prudent conduct of the Legiſlature, and the Subſcriptions being cloſed; the capital already appears to me to be too large for the commerce of the city, conſidering (as I do, which I am afraid there is ſome truth in) that it is on the decline. My greateſt expectations therefore are from the prudent management of ſo many reſpectable men, who are deeply concerned in its welfare."

Laſt Thurſday there happened a fracas of a moſt diſagreeable nature, at the Old Ferry Wharff, between the crew of the ſhip Friendſhip, Captain Davis, belonging to Hartford, in Connecticut, but laſt from Euſtatia, and the crew of a French ſchooner, the Maria Victoire, Captain Gardin, of -------. At about half after two in the afternoon, the Maria Victoire arrived at the above wharff, where there was a brig juſt ready to ſail. Captain Gardin agreed with the Captain of the brig, to take his place on his departure; and accordingly brought to along ſide. Juſt as the brig was getting out, arrived the Friendſhip, the mate (------ Burke) and crew of which inſiſted on taking poſſeſſion of the wharff, now becoming for a moment vacant. The French inſiſted on it as their right. On this an altercation enſued, when the Friendſhip's crew, amounting to 12 or 14, jumped on board the Maria. Captains Gardin and Davis (both of whom appear to have been abſent at this juncture) arriving, the former commanded the aſſailants to quit his veſſel immediately. With this they complied, but ſtill endeavoured to get between the Maria and the wharff. Finding themſelves diſappointed in this, they again boarded the ſchooner, having previouſly provided themſelves with handſpikes, &c. With theſe they attacked the crew, and ſeverely wounded in the head, Captain Gardin and Henry Tamarind, the latter of whom in ſuch a manner, as to leave him in imminent danger of his life. Some others of the ſchooner's ſailors they beat ſeverely. They then cut her hawſer, in order to ſet her adrift; but a great crowd of people aſſembling, they thought proper to retire.

This outrage created a great alarm in the city. Within a few hours a warrant was iſſued to apprehend the offenders. The High Conſtable and ſome aſſiſtants went on board the Friendſhip, and there ſeized four of them, all that the French ſailors could identify. Theſe were brought before the Chief Judge at between 10 and 11 o'clock at night. The French ſailors appeared, and ſwore poſitively to three----one for cutting the hawſer, the others for ſtriking and abuſing Captain Gardin, Tamarind and others. Nothing appearing againſt the fourth, he was diſcharged; the others were ordered to priſon. The witneſſes were bound over in 100 l. each, to proſecute at the enſuing Court of Oyer and Terminer, to be holden in September next.

It is to be added, that by the examinations of the French ſailors, it appears Captain Davis diſcountenanced the attack; but that his men diſregarded his directions, paying attention to Burke, the mate, who ſtands charged with having not only ſtimulated them to the violence, but even aſſiſted in it.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman in Lancaster, to his friend in this city.

"The Proteſtant Epiſcopal Academy at York-Town will be opened the firſt of November next for the education of youth, under the direction of able maſters.---The building is convenient and elegant, 48 feet in front, 57 in depth, and two lofty ſtories; and is divided into three ſchools, viz. an Engliſh, a Mathematical and Claſſical---the two firſt 33 by 20 each, and the latter 48 by 20: The apartments in the ſecond ſtory the ſame in number and ſize. It ſtands on an eminence, commanding a view of the town and the adjacent country. Young gentlemen will be genteelly boarded and lodged at 18 l. per annum, waſhing included, and taught at 6 l. The greateſt attention will be paid to the health and morals of all who ſhall be intruſted to our care. It is needleſs to ſay much reſpecting the ſituation of York: As to health, cheapneſs, and beauty of proſpect, it cannot be exceeded by any town on the continent of America. We have had great ſucceſs in procuring ſubſcriptions for the endowment of the Engliſh ſchool, ſo as to make education in it entirely free."

LETTERS from Italy bring an account of the following diſcovery, which has been made lately at Udine, the capital of Friuli, a ſmall province belonging to this republic. A poor man, lying under the frightful tortures of the hydrophobia, was cured by ſome draughts of vinegar, given him by miſtake inſtead of another potion. A phyſician of Padua, called Count Leontia, got intelligence of this event at Udine, and tried the ſame remedy upon a patient who was brought to the Paduan hoſpital, adminiſtering him a pound (or pint) of vinegar in the morning, another at noon, and a third at ſun-ſet; and the man was ſpeedily and perfectly cured.

FEW countries are richer in botanical productions than America; but in no country has leſs attention been paid to collecting an account of them. Natives and foreigners have frequently had occaſion to lament the want of ſome work, which might ſerve as a regiſter of paſt diſcoveries, and lead to future ones. It cannot be compiled at once, or by one man; but it is the duty of every one to contribute what he can towards it.

Influenced by this motive, and at the requeſt of many reſpectable perſons---

"THIS is a plain, practical and sensible performance; it "contains more knowledge in the art of making cheese, by far, "than any other book in our language. Large extracts from so "small a volume, within the compass of every one's purse, are not "necessary." And after having recited the chief subjects treated on, says, "All these and many other useful points are treated of "at large, in a very practical manner, evidently the Result of "experience." 6 w.

LANDS for PUBLIC SALE.

To be SOLD by public vendue, at the Vendue Store, in Baltimore-town, and the sale to commence on the 5th day of September next, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and continue until all are sold.

ABOUT 4650 acres of very valuable LAND, the property of the Baltimore Company, viz. Orange, containing about 2800 acres, adjoining said town, the greater part of it very well wooded, the soil tolerable good, and lays well for farming.------ Philipsburgh, containing about 900 acres, lays nearly adjoining said town, and on the banks of Patapsco river and Harris's creek, where the navigation is very good, and there may be several good and commodious ship-yards easily made; ----this tract abounds with different kinds of timber and fire wood, and contains several swamps and valleys, which may be easily made into valuable meadow, and a considerable quantity of the up-land well adapted to farming.---Gorsuch, containing about 500 acres; this tract lays adjoining Philipsburgh, and extends down to the point opposite the fort, which forms the mouth of our harbour, and lays two miles on navigable water; there has been formerly a few acres of this land cleared; but the remainder of it abounds with large lofty timber, chiefly white oak of the first quality for ship-building and with fire wood; on this tract there is a very large proportion of valuable meadow and up-land of the first quality for farming.---In short, the many advantages it has over most other lands, renders it the admiration of all who examine it.

Three small tracts, laying round the old Mount Royal Forge, on both sides of Jones's Falls, about one and a half miles from said town, containing about 250 acres; on this land there are three excellent mill-seats, on one of which stands the old forge, with other considerable improvements.------About one half of these tracts is very well wooded; but what adds exceedingly to its value, there are a considerable number of quarries of excellent stone for building.

Bare-Hills, containing about 200 acres, laying about six miles from said town, in the neighbourhood of Col. Darby Lux, and will be particularly described at the time of sale.

The whole of these lands will be laid off in lots of various sizes, according to their situations, and as it may be thought will best suit the purchasers. As there are many beautiful situations for Gentlemen's country seats, a number of lots will be laid off for that purpose, and the remainder in mill seats, stone quarries, gardens and farms.

The terms of sale of these lands are the one tenth of the purchase money of the three tracts, laying round Mount Royal forge, to be paid down the next day after the sale, and bonds with approved security, payable in five years from that date on interest, to be paid annually, for the residue;---and for the remaining tracts, one-twentieth part of the purchase money to be paid down the next day after the sale, and bond with interest in the same manner as aforesaid, for the residue.

Plats of the whole will be made out in a short time for the examination of the public---any persons desirous of viewing Philipsburgh, or Gorsuch, before the day of sale, are requested to apply to Mr. Miles Love, living on the latter; those who may be desirous to view the other lands, are requested to apply to Capt. Zachariah Mackubin, surveyor on Howard's hill, Baltimore. Attendance will be given at the time and place of sale, by
